Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 05 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
More snow showers for northern Scotland.

This Evening and Tonight:
Further frequent, heavy snow showers and windy conditions across northern Scotland. Also some wintry showers over parts of Northern Ireland, Wales, the far southwest of England and some North Sea coastal parts. Dry and clearer elsewhere. Cold and frosty.

Tuesday:
Further frequent snow showers across northern Scotland and some wintry showers in the far west. Elsewhere, sunny spells but scattered wintry showers during the afternoon. Cold and breezy.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Patchy rain for western areas Wednesday, elsewhere mainly dry and bright. Rain in northern areas Thursday moving southwards, turning colder in its wake with hail and snow showers following.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.